

2010 Fall NAHB Designation Course Schedule

Attached to this email is the schedule of courses that we are offering this fall....

September through December 2010.

For those of you who are familiar with the NAHB Designation programs, we are listing the courses that are being offered this Fall by Designation below. However, all of the courses can be used for Continuing Education credits for your Active designations.

For those of you who are not familiar with the NAHB Designation programs, please contact Sharon at the CBRA office and she will help explain the various educational opportunities and help you get started on your way to becoming a Certified Builder, Remodeler, Associate or any of the other various designations that are available. You can also visit www.nahb.org - go to Education/Designation overviews for details about each of the designations.
